

Classified Sales Executive upto £25K basic+commission.

Our client is the UK's second largest motoring website and Europe's biggest online motoring community. The site has more than 140,000 used cars for sale and attracts a staggering 5 million unique users a month. They have around a million members and are buzzing 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Due to continued growth within the business, our client is looking for a Classified Sales Executive.

The role

They are looking for a driven, confident and outgoing individual to be part of a winning team. On a day-to-day basis your focus will be on generating new business for the brand and spending time speaking to prospective clients in a competitive and vibrant marketplace. This is a demanding, target focused sales environment, where success is rewarded and could be the first step on your journey to a great sales career.

The ideal candidate

The new sales executive will be expected to build relationships, increase market share and grow revenue within this fast moving and competitive environment.

This is a great opportunity for a driven individual to join Europe's largest motoring community in a challenging but rewarding role that provides real potential for career progression.

Do you have the following skills?:

Excellent relationship building skills

The ability to work with a team and independently

Someone who works with integrity & ambitious to succeed

A strategic thinker to establish new revenue opportunities and build on these ideas

Highly organised with excellent time management skills

An exceptional communicator / negotiator

Someone who faces challenges with a positivity and tenaciousness

Excellent written skills

Good computer skills

If so, then I'd like to hear from you...! Get in touch Angela Izard at Morgan Rutherford Associates LTD.